

In 1918, the de Lange brothers established their business in Genemuiden, producing rush mats by hand. In 1959 the transition was made to produce broadloom woven and tufted carpets from woollen and synthetic yarns.

Our contemporary collection contains qualities that offer different textures and styles. These include the use of super soft polyamide yarn and natural wool. We focus primarily on superior floor design with functional benefit.

The backing material on all our qualities is 100% SBR free (Styrene Butadiene Rubber). This helps lower emissions and reduces flammability. Edel Carpets are recognised for their contemporary designs and construction to offer maximum wear and durability.

Our highly experienced and dedicated staff are passionate about their work and ensure they manage every stage of the production process.

Through partnerships & co-design we push the boundaries to fulfil client wishes. Edel Carpets understands the need for consistency, reliability and service. We are highly committed to our client relationships and work in focused teams with designers, managers and architects to closely supervise each project.

Our extensive portfolio of innovative, stylish & practical products are to be favoured by contractors, interior designers, architects and residential customers alike.
